HONORARY DEGREE
DOCTOR OF LAWS
ELIZABETH DOLE

North Carolinian Elizabeth Dole was sworn in by President George Bush as this nation's 20th Secretary of Labor on January 30, 1989. She guides a federal agency with almost 19,000 employees and a budget of more than $31 billion.

Highly respected by both political parties, Mrs. Dole serves as the President's chief adviser on labor and workforce issues, as well as a key economic policy adviser. It has been said that on the Washington political landscape, she stands out as one who is brilliant, vibrant and charming. She is a political insider known for her diligence and dedication to public service.

Since taking office Secretary Dole has advanced a very active agenda. Among many accomplishments, she has:

*Successfully negotiated a compromise which resulted in the first increase in the minimum wage since 1981, coupled with a first-ever training wage to ensure that young workers continue to have opportunities for employment.

*Issued an ambitious "Call to Quality," which encompasses a number of proposals aimed at improving the state of America's workforce.

*Proposed legislation aimed at refocusing the Job Training Partnership Act, so that it assists the least skilled and most economically disadvantaged Americans, and provides not just for a job, but also basic skills training, literacy, remedial education, and counseling — a total support system.

*Continued her career-long dedication to public safety by making workplace safety a top priority. Secretary Dole proposed and received a 10% increase in the inspection force of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the first increase since 1981. In doing so, Secretary Dole sent a clear and unequivocal message that those responsible for the health and safety of workers must be aware of safety standards and comply with them fully. The National Safety Council recently honored Secretary Dole's commitment to safety by presenting her with their Distinguished Service Award.

*Fostered labor-management relations by meeting with union and business leaders to encourage that differences be resolved through cooperation and not confrontation. Her decision to meet with the parties involved in the Pittston Coal Mine strike and to appoint a Supermediator is evidence of her commitment to this principle.

*Travelled twice to Poland, where she has designed and is implementing a package which will assist the new Polish government in its transition from a state-controlled economy to a free market economy.

Prior to becoming Secretary of Labor Mrs. Dole was this nation's longest-serving Secretary of Transportation serving from February 1983 until October 1987. During her service as Secretary of Transportation the United States enjoyed the safest years in its history in all three major transportation areas — rail, air, and highway.

Secretary Dole's public service experience also includes five years as a Federal Trade Commissioner and two years as Assistant to President Reagan for Public Liaison.

Secretary Dole was graduated with distinction from Duke University, where she was president of student government and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She received her law degree from Harvard Law School and a master's degree in education and government from Harvard University.

A native of Salisbury, North Carolina, Mrs. Dole was named by the Gallup Poll in 1988 as one of the world's ten most admired women.

Clemson University holds her and her achievements in the highest regard, and it is a special privilege to honor her with the awarding of this honorary degree.

HONORARY DEGREE
DOCTOR OF LAWS
WILLIAM STATES LEE

Bill Lee, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Duke Power Company, is a native of Charlotte, North Carolina, and grandson of Duke Power's first chief engineer.

He attended Woodberry Forest School, Orange, Virginia, and graduated from Princeton University as Phi Beta Kappa and magna cum laude in civil engineering.

After serving in the United States Navy Civil Engineering Corps, he joined Duke Power's engineering department in 1955 as a junior designer. Following several promotions within that department, he was named Vice President - Engineering in 1965, and a Duke Power Board Member in 1968. He was promoted to Senior Vice President - Engineering and Construction and joined the company's executive committee in 1971. He became Executive Vice President in 1976, President and Chief Operating Officer in 1978 and Chairman and Chief Executive Officer in April 1982.

From its founding in 1979 until 1982, Mr. Lee was Chairman of the Board of the Institute of Nuclear Power Operations. The institute was established by all the investor, government and cooperatively owned nuclear utilities to evaluate and assist each of the nation's nuclear power plants in achieving safety excellence.

He was a catalyst in the founding of the World Association of Nuclear Operators (1987), established to improve the safety and operating performance of nuclear plants throughout the world. Members include the United States, the Soviet Union and 27 other nations with nuclear facilities.

At Clemson, he is a member of the President's Advisory Council. He serves as Director of J. P. Morgan & Co., Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. and the Liberty Corporation. He was named chairman of the fund drive for the North Carolina Performing Arts Center at Charlotte Foundation in June 1988.

In 1972 he was elected a Fellow in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and received the society's George Westinghouse Gold Medal. He was elected to the National Academy of Engineering in 1978. The National Society of Professional Engineers selected Mr. Lee as the nation's outstanding engineer in 1980. He is a registered professional engineer in North and South Carolina and a member of various industry, professional and civic organizations.

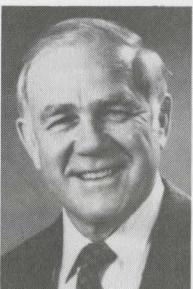

He was awarded the Silver Medal of Merit Award by the Treasury Department's U. S. Savings Bonds Division for his service as chairman of the 1987 Public Utilities Industry Savings Bond Campaign, which resulted in record-setting enrollment of utility employees. Mr. Lee was reappointed to serve as 1988 Utilities Industry Chairman.

For three consecutive years he was named a winner in Financial World's CEO of the Year Competition, receiving silver awards in 1985 and 1986 and bronze awards in 1987 and 1989. Winners were chosen from some 2,300 executive officers representing all industries throughout the country.

In 1979 he was awarded the W. S. O'B. Robinson Award, the company's prestigious award for outstanding service in several categories, including special achievements, public service and customer relations, for his leadership in the Three Mile Island crisis.

Clemson University holds Bill Lee and his achievements in the highest regard, and it is a special privilege to present an honorary degree to him.

The President's Award

JERRY E. DEMPSEY

As head of one of the nation's largest environmental services companies and as a hardworking and generous volunteer for Clemson, Landrum native Jerry E. Dempsey is one of today's leading influences in technological and educational advancement.

Mr. Dempsey is president, chief executive officer and a director of Chemical Waste Management, Inc. of Oak Brook, Illinois, and senior vice president and a director of its parent company, Waste Management, Inc. His firm, which manages and treats waste from industries and government, is at the forefront in developing waste-treatment technology that can immediately be put into practice.

Likewise, Mr. Dempsey is at the forefront of Clemson's rise to academic excellence. With his wife, Harriet, he has endowed The Jerry E. and Harriet Calvert Dempsey Professorship of Waste Management, which will enhance the University's environmental systems engineering program, already one of the best in the country.

He is a $2,000 member of IPTAY, the University's athletic scholarship organization, and serves on the College of Engineering's advisory board and on the National Corporations Committee of The Campaign for Clemson, the University's $62-million capital fund drive. He is a former member of the Board of Visitors and a former director of the Clemson University Foundation.

Mr. Dempsey received his baccalaureate degree in mechanical engineering from Clemson in 1954 and his master's degree in business administration from Georgia State University in 1967.

He is a director of The Brand Companies of Park Ridge, Illinois, and of Navistar International Corp. of Chicago. He is board chairman of Chicago's Adler Planetarium, a board member of Butterfield Country Club, vice president of the Oak Brook Executives Breakfast Club, and an elder at Christ Church of Oak Brook.

Mr. Dempsey's many honors and recognitions include the Oak Brook Jaycees' "Outstanding Business Leader Award" and Financial World magazine's "CEO of the Year" bronze award in the Service Business category. Clemson University is proud to add to that prestigious list the May 1990 President's Award.

The Academic Procession

The Academic procession is composed of the faculty, staff, officers, Trustees, and honored guests of the University. Faculty enter by college and each college is preceded by its marshal, a senior faculty member, with the college baton, described under University Regalia.

Following the marshal is the college banner bearer. Each banner is a combination of colors that declare the disciplines taught in that college. These colors, which were established by the American Council on Education, are as follows:

College	Colors	Discipline
Agriculture	Maize	Agriculture
Architecture	Brown	Fine Arts
	Lilac	Architecture
Commerce & Industry	Copper Drab	Economics Business
Education	Light Blue	Education
Engineering	Orange	Engineering
Forest & Recreation Resources	Russet Sage Green	Forestry Recreation Education
Liberal Arts	Dark Blue White Cream	Philosophy Letters & Humanities Social Science
Library	Lemon	Library
Nursing	Apricot	Nursing
Sciences	Golden Yellow	Sciences
Staff	Purple & Orange	Academic Support

Collegiate faculty follow their banner in order of academic rank wearing academic costumes of medieval origin. Those who have received their degrees from institutions outside the United States wear costumes specified by the awarding institutions.

The academic costumes of faculty whose degrees are from United States' institutions are specified by a uniform code maintained by the American Council on Education. Caps are black and are usually mortar boards with tassels. Doctors of Philosophy wear gold tassels usually of metallic thread; other degrees wear black or discipline colors.

The bachelors' gown is simple and black with long, pointed sleeves. Masters' gowns, also black, are longer than bachelors. Older gowns have sleeves that terminate at the elbow while those since 1960 have sleeves extended to the wrist. Doctors' gowns are full, with bell-like sleeves. The front is marked by velvet panels and the sleeves are marked by three velvet bars. While most gowns are black with black velvet, one variation is to replace black velvet with velvet in the discipline color. A second variation is a colored gown usually of the university's colors.

All hoods specify the level of degree, the discipline studied and the awarding institution. First, degree level is signified by the size of the hood with bachelors' smallest, masters' larger, and doctors' quite large and of a different shape. Clemson does not award hoods to bachelors. The width of the velvet trim also conveys the degree. Secondly, the discipline is indicated by the color of the trim edging the hood to form the throat over the gown. Finally, the color of the hood's lining specifies the awarding institution. The colors are displayed in combinations that are drawn from heraldry. Notice that the Clemson University hood is lined with purple through which is an orange chevron (a "V"). Although many combinations are duplicated by dozens of institutions, Clemson is presently the only institution with that registered combination.

The officers, trustees, and honored guests wear academic, ecclesiastical, or military regalia as set forth by their professions. They are preceded by the University marshal. Clad in a gown of office in gold and purple, the marshal wears no hood and bears the University mace. At the ceremony's close, the faculty do not exit as a part of the recessional but are dismissed, along with students and guests, when the marshal leaves the coliseum.

The University Regalia

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic club-like shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's pre-history. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by the late Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

Coat of Arms

Designed by Clemson University graphic artist, Connie Floyd, the coat of arms represents the historic three-fold mission of this institution: teaching, research and service.

Pictured on the cover, the coat of arms is divided into three parts. The bottom contains a series of open books representing the concept of teaching as the basis of the land-grant university. The white of the books and the purple of the background designate the teaching mission of the University as it is achieved through undergraduate and graduate instruction.

The upper portion of the shield contains two sets of calipers and wheat sheaves illustrating the measurement system for research, as well as Clemson's tradition in agriculture and Extension. The three symbols — the books, calipers and wheat sheaves — also represent the humanities, technology and science.

The entire shield is joined by a small orange center shield bearing a white tiger mask symbolizing the abiding spirit of Clemson.

The crest is a gold palmetto tree, which emphasizes Thomas Green Clemson's desire that Clemson become "the people's university" for South Carolinians. It rises from a band of purple, orange, white and gold. The outer pair of colors, purple and gold, are the official colors of the University; the inner pair, orange and white, are Clemson's student colors.

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; but circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affairs to Belgium, 1844-1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry, and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has ten major academic units. These are the College of Agricultural Sciences, the College of Architecture, the College of Commerce and Industry, the College of Education, the College of Engineering, the College of Forest and Recreation Resources, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Nursing, the College of Sciences, and the Graduate School.

The institution is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; various curricula are accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board, National League for Nursing, Society of American Foresters, American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests,
For our past is grand,
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale.

Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;
And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.
