The University Regalia

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic club-like shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's pre-history. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf of the Department of Fine Arts of the University of Georgia. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed young goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

Awards

NORRIS MEDAL

First awarded at Clemson University in 1908, the Norris Medal was established under the terms of the will of the Honorable D. K. Norris, a life trustee of this institution. The medal is given each year to the graduating student, who, on the basis of exceptional scholastic achievement and leadership ability, is judged by the University Scholarships and Awards Committee to be the best all-around student.

All winners of the Norris Medal have their names affixed to a bronze plaque mounted at the front entrance of Sikes Hall.

WINNER OF THE NORRIS MEDAL FOR 1978

VERNA GWEN GARDNER
Goose Creek, S. C.

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Established at Clemson University in 1959, this award is made annually by the faculty of Clemson University to the member of the graduating class who has the highest scholastic achievement. All graduates who have completed the requirements for the bachelor's degree since the last commencement exercise and who have completed at Clemson at least 75 per cent of the work required for graduation shall be eligible for consideration.

All winners of the Faculty Scholarship Award have their names affixed to a bronze plaque mounted in the front entrance of Sikes Hall.

ALUMNI MASTER TEACHER AWARD

This award is presented by the Clemson Alumni Association for distinguished achievements in classroom teaching. The faculty recipient is selected by the Student Alumni Council from nominations submitted by students. A bronze plaque is presented permanently to the recipient and the award carries with it a stipend of one thousand dollars.

WINNER OF THE 1978 ALUMNI MASTER TEACHER AWARD

THOMAS EUGENE SKELTON

Emeritus Trustee

EDWARD OSWALD LIGHTSEY. Member of the Board of Trustees of Clemson University, 1963-1978. Devoted and faithful Clemson alumnus of the class of '33 he received the Bachelor of Science degree in Arts and Sciences. Following graduation he returned to his native county of Hampton, South Carolina, where he quickly established himself as a leader in the business and civic life of that area, becoming by 1940 a co-owner and general manager of Lightsey Brothers, Incorporated, and a co-owner and vice president of the Hampton and Branchville Railroad Company.

During his fifteen years as a member of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Lightsey served on the Educational Policy Committee, the Student Affairs Committee, and the Executive Committee and for a period of time represented Clemson University on the South Carolina Commission on Higher Education. He also for a term was a member of the Agricultural Regulatory Committee of the Board of Trustees. On each of these committees he served ably and well, and his contributions to their deliberations were most helpful and constructive.

Clemson University was experiencing during the years from 1963 to 1978 one of its most significant periods of growth in usefulness and service to the people of this state. In the areas of teaching, research, and public service it was making contributions of the highest order. No one was more interested in encouraging and expanding the abilities of his Alma Mater to develop in these areas of service to the state, the nation, and the world than Oswald Lightsey.

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; but circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affairs to Belgium, 1844-1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry, and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has ten major academic units. These are the College of Agricultural Sciences, the College of Architecture, the College of Education, the College of Engineering, the College of Forest and Recreation Resources, the College of Industrial Management and Textile Science, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Nursing, the College of Sciences, and the Graduate School.

The institution is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; various curricula are accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, National Architectural Accrediting Board, National League for Nursing, Society of American Foresters, and American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests,
For our past is grand,
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale,
Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;
And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.
