Order of Ceremonies

(Audience will please stand as candidates march in and remain standing for the Invocation)

Invocation

The Reverend Timothy S. Willis
Baptist Student Union

Conferring of Honorary Degrees

Address to Graduating Class

Dr. James B. Holderman
President, University of South Carolina

Conferring of Degrees in Course and Delivery of Diplomas

President Max Lennon

Welcome to New Alumni

George M. Moore
Executive Officer, Alumni Relations

Benediction

Frank W. Breazeale, Organist

Visitors are not allowed on the floor of the coliseum for photographic or other purposes until after the commencement address. Access to the floor of the coliseum will be allowed beginning with the conferring of degrees of the undergraduate candidates.

You are requested to refrain from loud expressions of pleasure for individual graduates. Such expressions frequently detract from the recognition due the next graduate in line.

Your cooperation is respectfully but urgently requested.

HONORARY DEGREE

DOCTOR OF LAWS

R. ROY PEARCE

Clemson alumnus R. Roy Pearce of Columbia has long been a national figure in the multi-billion dollar food service industry. He also is known as one of the University's most active and involved alumni who for decades has worked to strengthen the University's academic excellence.

Mr. Pearce was born and raised at Columbia where he graduated from Columbia High School in 1937. He graduated from Clemson in 1941 and joined the Pearce-Young-Angel food distribution company, which his grandfather established in 1903. Eight months later he was on active duty with the Air Force and headed overseas for the next three years. He served in every major European action from North Africa to Germany, including the beachhead victories at Anzio, Salerno and Gila, Sicily, and Omaha Beach at Normandy, France. He was the recipient of four Arrowhead decorations for invasions, the Bronze Star with Oak-leaf Cluster, and his unit received the French Croix de Guerre.

Returning to PYA Company in 1945, he was elected vice president, and president and chief executive officer in 1960. When PYA merged into Consolidated Foods Corp. (now Sara Lee Corp.) in 1967, he served as PYA president and was elected group vice president of Consolidated Foods in 1970.

In 1971 he was elected chairman and chief executive officer of Monarch Institutional Foods, a division of Consolidated Foods. The Monarch operation was moved from Chicago in 1972 and made a part of the PYA Company. Mr. Pearce was elected to the Board of Directors of Consolidated Foods Corp. in 1972 and was chief executive officer and chairman of PYA/Monarch, Inc. He helped to establish the firm as a national food service distributor whose sales went from $35 million annually to more than $1 billion a year, making it one of South Carolina's largest companies. Mr. Pearce is a director and a member of the executive committee of SCN Corp. and serves as a director of Sonoco Products Co.

Roy Pearce left the Clemson campus as a graduate forty-five years ago, but his heart has never left this special place. He has continued to work for and serve Clemson through the years, including two terms as National President of the Clemson Alumni Association, 15 years on the Clemson Foundation Board, past President of the Columbia Clemson Club, and chairman of the Finance Committee for the Building Fund of the Alumni Center dedicated in 1973.

His current Clemson project finds him — as class president — at the helm of a $1 million academic fund-raising campaign for the Class of 1941 — the class that marched out of college and off to war. About one-fourth of the 409 graduates of the class lost their lives while serving their country in World War II, and contributions will be used to establish The Class of '41 Memorial Endowment to honor both them and other classmates who have died since then.

The Endowment will provide scholarships and support a professorship in the College of Liberal Arts. The class plans to commemorate its Golden Anniversary Reunion in 1991 by presenting the memorial endowment as a gift to Clemson.

Roy Pearce has brought honor and distinction to Clemson in so many ways. Now it is our turn to honor one of our own with this honorary degree. We are fortunate that he chose Clemson many years ago, but we are exceptionally fortunate that he has remained committed and dedicated to her continued academic excellence and advancement in educational quality.

HONORARY DEGREE
DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES
FRANK H. WARDLAW

South Carolinian Frank H. Wardlaw has enriched the life of academic communities in his native state and in Texas as a pioneer in establishing university presses. Hundreds and hundreds of books published under his direction are part of his legacy to scholars and the general public alike.

Mr. Wardlaw was born at Indiantown in Williamsburg County in 1913 and pursued a career as a journalist at the University of South Carolina, where he majored in journalism and was managing editor of the student newspaper, The Gamecock.

Between 1933 and 1937 he was a reporter for the Columbia Record and for the Associated Press. The following year he joined the faculty of the USC School of Journalism and was named director of the University News Service.

His long association with the development of university presses began in 1945 when he participated in the establishment of the University of South Carolina Press and became its first director.

In 1950 Mr. Wardlaw left South Carolina and went to Austin, Texas, where his assignment was to organize the University of Texas Press. He served as its director until 1974 when he was lured to College Station to establish the Texas A&M University Press for UT's arch rival.

Under Mr. Wardlaw's direction, nearly 800 books were published at the University of South Carolina and at the University of Texas, and approximately 80 during his tenure at Texas A&M.

On March 29, 1985, the State of Texas honored the South Carolinian who became the father of highly successful university presses at UT and A&M. The governor proclaimed Frank Wardlaw Day and The Dallas Morning News headlined the story, Texas honors the man who got the presses rolling.

Mr. Wardlaw edited one book, Men and Women of Carolina, and is the author of I Have That Honor. Numerous magazine and newspaper articles include three in the Saturday Review and one in Harper's Magazine.

Mr. Wardlaw served two terms as president of the Association of American University Presses and two terms as president of the Texas Institute of Letters. He was instrumental in the development of AAUP's Latin American translation program and in establishing the Inter-American Scholarly Book Center (CILA) in Mexico City, serving on the CILA Board of Directors for five years.

He was a member of the Advisory Publications Committee of John Knox Press for nine years and on the Advisory Committee to the Wintertuhr Museum for three years. He also has been a member of the Board of Directors of Franklin Book programs and of the Advisory Committee on Humanities Publications of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Mr. Wardlaw left Texas A&M in 1978 and returned to South Carolina to live in retirement on Fripp Island.

Clemson University holds him and his achievements in the highest regard. It is a special privilege for all of us to honor him in this way.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests,
For our past is grand,
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale.
Here the Tiger lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;
And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.
