The University Regalia

The University Mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At an official convocation such as Commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the Mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The Mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic club-like shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's pre-history. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the Seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential Chain and Seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's Chain and Seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The Batons of the College and School Marshals also descend from mediaeval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the Seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the College or School belongs. Clemson's Batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University Regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf of the Department of Fine Arts of the University of Georgia. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed young goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the Batons were executed by Professor Marshall C. Bell and the lapidary work was executed by Mr. C. C. Wilson, both of Clemson University.

Awards

NORRIS MEDAL

First awarded at Clemson University in 1908, the Norris Medal was established under the terms of the will of the Honorable D. K. Norris, a life trustee of this institution. The Medal is given each year to the graduating student who, on the basis of exceptional scholastic achievement and leadership ability, is judged by the University Committee on Honors and Awards to be the best all-around student.

All winners of the Norris Medal have their names fixed to a bronze plaque mounted in the front entrance of Tillman Hall.

WINNER OF THE NORRIS MEDAL FOR 1972

Joseph Fletcher Anderson, Jr.
Edgefield, South Carolina

FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP AWARD

Established at Clemson University in 1959, this award is made annually by the Faculty of Clemson University to the member of the Graduating Class who has completed at Clemson at least 75 per cent of the work required for graduation and who has the highest Scholastic Achievement.

All winners of the Faculty Scholarship Award have their names fixed to a bronze plaque mounted in the front entrance of Tillman Hall.

WINNER OF THE FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP AWARD FOR 1972

Annie Bailes Brown
Walhalla, South Carolina

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; but circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affaires to Belgium, 1844-1852), and served as the first superintendent of agricultural affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry, and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in the founding of Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has ten major academic units. These are the College of Agricultural Sciences; the College of Architecture; the College of Education; the College of Engineering; the College of Forest and Recreation Resources; the College of Industrial Management and Textile Science; the College of Liberal Arts; the College of Nursing; the College of Physical, Mathematical, and Biological Sciences; and the Graduate School.

The institution is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; various curricula are accredited by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, the American Chemical Society, the National Architectural Accrediting Board, and the Society of American Foresters.

Clemson is a Land-Grant Institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the state. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the state's counties.
