HONORARY DEGREE
DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES
ROBERT M. LUMIANSKY

Robert M. Lumiansky is a South Carolinian who became one of the intellectual leaders of American society in the humanities and a champion of their cause.

He has been one of the most enlightened and influential humanistic administrators in the country and a rigorous and productive scholar. During his distinguished career — as Dean and then Provost at Tulane, as Chairman of his Department at the University of Pennsylvania, as President of the American Council of Learned Societies, and of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa — he insisted on high academic standards and has been an articulate spokesman for the humanities.

Born in Darlington where he attended the public schools, Dr. Lumiansky earned his undergraduate degree at The Citadel, the M.A. at the University of South Carolina, and the Ph.D. at the University of North Carolina.

In the 1960's he was one of the moving spirits who envisioned and brought about the establishment of the two governmental agencies, the National Endowment for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Arts. He served as one of the initial members of the Council of the Endowment and thereby had a major influence in setting the course and standards of the Endowment.

During his tenure as President of the American Council of Learned Societies, he was a key figure in this country and internationally in sustaining the advancement of learning in the humanities and in keeping humanistic scholarship thriving in America.

He is a distinguished scholar, who has published extensively in his own field for more than 35 years. His scholarly achievements have won for him wide recognition and a host of awards, including a Guggenheim Fellowship, membership in the National Humanities Center, the presidency of the Medieval Academy of America, Ford Foundation grants, and many, many other honors.

As a scholar of medieval English literature, Dr. Lumiansky has few if any peers. His work on Chaucer has won international recognition, and his modern translations of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and Troilus and Criseyde are world renowned. His scholarly editions of the cycles of medieval religious drama are the models against which other similar works are measured. The articles and critical essays which he has authored are equally distinguished and are cited by virtually everyone working in the field.

Dr. Lumiansky is a distinguished teacher as is so often the case with distinguished scholars. His informed and stimulating lectures and seminars have trained a generation of younger scholars and have taught the many students at Tulane University, Duke University, the University of Pennsylvania, and New York University and others the value of the humanities in their lives and the joys of literature and the world of the mind.

His entire career has embodied the ideals to which Clemson is dedicated, and it is most fitting and appropriate that we recognize this fact by making him an honorary member of our University community through the awarding of an honorary degree.

HONORARY DEGREE

DOCTOR OF LAWS

ARTHUR M. WILLIAMS

Arthur M. Williams of Columbia is a South Carolinian whose distinguished career with South Carolina Electric & Gas Company and vigorous community leadership and service have contributed greatly to the progress of the state.

He is Chairman Emeritus of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company, an honor he received upon his retirement in 1982 after 38 years with the utility.

Born at Charleston, Mr. Williams attended public schools in Columbia and earned a B.S. degree in textile chemistry from Clemson University in 1936. After two years of active duty as an officer in the Regular Army, Mr. Williams entered the School of Law at the University of South Carolina, graduating magna cum laude in 1942 with a Juris Doctor Degree.

Mr. Williams practiced law in Columbia until 1944 when he joined South Carolina Electric & Gas Company as Director of Personnel and Industrial Relations. After four years he was promoted to Staff Counsel. During these years Mr. Williams also participated in the field of education, teaching classes at the University of South Carolina School of Law.

In 1959 he was promoted to the position of Vice President and General Counsel of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company, and just two years later he was elevated to Senior Vice President. His career continued to advance with the company, and in May 1977 he was named Chairman of the Board of Directors.

On October 1, 1979, Mr. Williams retired as Chief Executive Officer of South Carolina Electric & Gas Company.

Mr. Williams' belief in the value and importance of higher education has led him to take an active role in the development of such institutions as Benedict College and Voorhees College, where he is a member of the Board of Trustees. He also serves as a Board Member for the University of South Carolina Educational Foundation. From 1971 to 1975 Mr. Williams served as a Trustee for Converse College.

He is a member of countless civic organizations such as the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, United Fund for Community Services and many others. Among his many honors and awards are the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award, the Sigma Nu Centennial Award and the Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of South Carolina. Mr. Williams is also listed in Who's Who in America.

Mr. Williams' participation in the educational affairs of the University of South Carolina also includes the presidency of the Carolina Research and Development Foundation and service as secretary-treasurer for the Business Partnership Foundation.

Recently Mr. Williams has been involved in researching his family history as far back as his namesake, Arthur Middleton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. His hobbies and interests range from polo to hunting to spending time with his four grandchildren.

It is a special privilege for all of us at Clemson to honor one of our own with the presentation of an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree in recognition of all that he has meant to South Carolina, especially his commitment and dedication to the continued advancement of higher education.

The University Regalia

The University mace is the symbolic representation of the whole of Clemson University and must be present at any convocation where the University, through its delegated members, is acting officially. At any official convocation such as commencement, the University Marshal, carrying the mace, precedes the President into the assembly. The mace rests before the President's chair or speaker's stand throughout the ceremony, and its removal from the assembly at the close of a convocation is symbolic of the official withdrawal of the University and, thus, the close of the proceedings.

The decorative design of Clemson's mace is derived from the ceremonial maces carried by heads of state and church in the Middle Ages. Its basic club-like shape, however, is much more ancient, probably going back to man's pre-history. It is made of walnut wood and silver, with the seal of the University in gold and the University colors represented by insets of cornelian (orange) and amethyst (purple). Amethyst is also the state stone of South Carolina.

The Presidential chain and seal is symbolic of the authority vested in the office of president by the governing body of the University. Only the University President may wear it, and while wearing it he speaks for the whole body of the institution. Clemson's chain and seal are made of silver and gold, and cornelian and amethyst.

The batons of the college marshals also descend from medieval "staffs of office" which were carried by the senior members of departments of state or church. They display the seal of the University and the symbolic color of the discipline to which the college belongs. Clemson's batons are made of walnut wood and silver with the various disciplines inset with enamel.

The University regalia were designed and executed by Mr. Robert Ebendorf. Mr. Ebendorf is twice winner of the Tiffany Award and one of the most acclaimed goldsmiths of our era. The enamel plaques for the batons were executed by the late Professor Marshall C. Bell, and the lapidary work was executed by Mr. C. C. Wilson of Clemson University.

Historical Statement

Clemson University is named for Thomas Green Clemson (1807-1888), who left the bulk of his estate to the State of South Carolina for the founding of the institution.

Thomas Clemson was born in Philadelphia in 1807 and educated at the Royal School of Mines in Paris (1828-1832). His early profession was that of a mining engineer; but circumstances diverted his interests into politics and the life of a southern planter, and he soon became an enthusiastic advocate of scientific agriculture. He had a career as a diplomat (charge d'affairs to Belgium, 1844-1852) and served as the first Superintendent of Agricultural Affairs in Washington (1860). As a scientist he published numerous articles in the fields of mining, chemistry, and agriculture. His varied activities included his assistance in the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, his support of the Morrill Act, his leadership in South Carolina after the Civil War, and his part in founding Clemson University.

Thomas Clemson was the son-in-law of South Carolina's John C. Calhoun, a political figure of national importance during the first half of the nineteenth century. Mr. Calhoun's home, Fort Hill, is preserved on the Clemson Campus as a national shrine.

The academic program at Clemson College began in 1893 with an enrollment of 446. The first "college prospectus" announced only two four-year curricula, supplemented by two two-year preparatory courses. Today the University has ten major academic units. These are the College of Agricultural Sciences, the College of Architecture, the College of Commerce and Industry, the College of Education, the College of Engineering, the College of Forest and Recreation Resources, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Nursing, the College of Sciences, and the Graduate School.

The institution is an accredited member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools; various curricula are accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board, National League for Nursing, Society of American Foresters, American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology, and National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Clemson is a land-grant institution. As such, it is engaged not only in its primary academic program, but does extensive research at the main campus and at five agricultural experiment stations located in the State. The University is also heavily committed to a varied program of public service, including the work of agricultural extension which has professional personnel located in each of the State's counties.

CLEMSON ALMA MATER

A. C. Corcoran, '19

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness,
Where the Tigers play;
Here the sons of dear old Clemson
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might,
That the Tiger's roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

We will dream of great conquests,
For our past is grand,
And her sons have fought and conquered
Every foreign land.

Where the mountains smile in grandeur
O'er the hill and dale.

Here the Tigers lair is nestling
Swept by storm and gale.

We are brothers strong in manhood,
For we work and strive;
And our alma mater reigneth
Ever in our lives.
